ALBERT CABELL RITCHIE

BORN in Richmond, Va., August 26, 1876; died in Baltimore, February 24, 1936. Four times Governor of the State of Maryland, one of America's greatest statesmen, lawyers and economists, and probably kept from the presidency of his country by his geographical location.

Served in several minor positions and then was chosen attorney-general of his State before being elected governor for the first time in 1920. Remained as chief executive continuously until 1935, an honor never achieved by any other Marylander.

Received his LL.B. from the University of Maryland in 1898 and his LL.D. in 1920. Was professor of law at the University from 1907 to 1920.

A great friend of education, he played a telling part in the building of the University of Maryland and bettering the general educational system of the State.

His death was Maryland's greatest loss in modern times.

Tablet erected in Ritchie Coliseum Lounge

In upper right picture, Ritchie is delivering response at Coliseum dedication. Other three pictures were taken on his appearances at as many commencement exercises at College Park

HARRY CLIFTON BYRD

Born Crisfield, Md., on February 12, 1889.

Entered Maryland Agricultural College in September, 1905.

Was graduated from Maryland Agricultural College in June, 1908, with a degree of B.S. in Engineering, having finished a four-year course in three years.

Returned to Maryland Agricultural College as an instructor in English and coach of athletics in the Fall of 1912. Soon afterward was made Director of Athletics.

Became Assistant to the President in 1918. (Then Maryland State College, which it became in 1916.)

Made Vice-President in 1932. (Became University of Maryland in 1920.)

Made Acting President on July 1, 1935.

Elevated to the Presidency on February 21, 1936.

Prime mover in every big step taken by the institution, including the consolidation of the Baltimore and College Park schools to create the present University.

There were only about 120 students at College Park when he came back to his Alma Mater in 1912 and only a few buildings on the campus. Now there are more than 2,000 students and the property is valued at close to $5,000,000.

Due largely to his influence, a hospital costing more than $1,500,000 and other needed buildings also have been added in Baltimore, where there are over 1,400 students. Property assets there also approximate $5,000,000.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

THE Student Government Association is the student governing body of the University. Its purpose is the enactment and administration of such laws and regulations as it shall deem necessary and proper for the welfare of the student body and for the promotion of cooperation and harmony between students and administration.

The three component parts of the Association are the Women's League and the Men's League, each to consider its respective problems, and the Executive Council which has final jurisdiction as far as the government of students is concerned.

This is the second year of the existence of the Women's League and Men's League. The Women's League is only a continuance, under a new name, of the old Women's Student Government Association, whereas the Men's League is a comparatively new organization which has justified its creation by functioning this year in its true capacity—handling completely the affairs of all men students.

ADVISORY BOARD

UNIVERSITY of Maryland student publications are extremely fortunate in having fine faculty cooperation and expert supervision. In fact the system at Maryland has gained wide recognition and frequent inquiries come to the University in regard to it.

HOTTEL

William H. (Bill) Hottel, Washington newspaperman of many years' experience, who is director of public relations at the University, is faculty adviser of all publications and very active in their affairs; Geary (Swede) Eppley, associate professor of agronomy, coach of the track teams, chairman of the Student Life Committee, member of the Athletic Board, and all-around busy man in campus activities, keeps an eagle eye on the various exchequers, including publications and other organizations, while Miss Edith Frothingham, amanuensis and general efficiency expert, does the book-keeping and auditing, and keeps everyone happy and working smoothly.

Bill Hottel started his career with the Washington Post but has been with the Washington Star for nearly eighteen years. He has been associated with the University for fourteen years and in that time has become a very integral part of student publications.

Professor Eppley is a graduate of the Maryland State College and, while an undergraduate, distinguished himself in athletics, military and publications. He was awarded the H. C. Byrd citizenship medal upon graduation in 1920 as a B.S. in Agriculture. Swede's college days were broken up by service in the world war, in which he gained a lieutenantcy. He is now a major in the cavalry reserves. He got his M.S. From Maryland in 1926.

Miss Frothingham, whose home is in Laurel, has been with the University for nearly seventeen years, having gained some excellent banking experience before becoming such a valued member of the staff at College Park.

All three work harmoniously with the student leaders and the University. The faculty and student body are highly grateful for their efforts.

SAMUEL LEISHEAR

IT'S hard to realize that it's our turn to don caps and gowns and march up the aisle to receive that little piece of paper that represents the work of four years.

It's even harder to realize that it was four years ago that we first became a part of this University. We can recall so easily our first class meeting when we elected Gardner Brooks as head of our class, the little yellow hats and name plates we wore, the razzing we got for our greenness, the cold bath the Sophs gave us in Paint Branch, and the fun we had with our Freshman Frolic and Prom, so ably conducted by Jerry Sachs.

The second year was fun, too. Under Brooks, Emnis, Quirk, and Hart, we sailed through the year. It was nice to no longer be the underdogs, and we got great satisfaction out of venting our superiority on the Freshmen. Said Freshmen were decidedly unruly and openly balked at Sophomore razzing. Already we had quite a few people participating in teams, publications, dramatics, and other clubs.

Our Junior year was quite triumphant under Emnis, McFerrin, Quirk, and Brill. At last we came into our own and were duly recognized as important people. Our Prom was recognized as a huge success, with Red Nicholls officiating musically. Further asserting our independence, we took matters into our own hands, under Editor Duke Lohr, and rechristened the Reveille as the Terrapin.

Even while we were still contemplating our Junior achievements, we suddenly awoke to the fact that we were Seniors! We proudly surveyed our contributions to Maryland's Hall of Fame—Minion and Willis, All-American mention; Haskin, amateur in name only so far as dramatics is concerned; Webb, boxer par excellence; June Barnsley and Betty Quirk, two grand girls who almost managed a corner on Women's offices; Routh Hickey, beloved little First Lady of the Maryland Campus; and Lou Emnis, football player, 3.5 student and Student Government Head. As Seniors we saw go up a new Girls' Dorm, Arts and Science Building and a new face for the Dairy Building, to say nothing of the long-sought improvements to the parking lots. We saw Harry C. Byrd receive the highest honor this University can grant—the appointment to the Presidency. We're proud, but we survey all this with a lump on our throats as we realize it's almost over. It's been a glorious four years and we shall always look back on them with pride.

Learning Physics is a serious task

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

THE Dean and faculty of the College of Arts and Sciences take this opportunity to bid you, who will soon leave us as graduates, Godspeed in your journey through life. Our feelings at the thought of parting are mixed, for there is sorrow when we consider that the close relationship which has existed throughout four years is about to terminate, and joy when we remember that there are going forth from the halls of the University a band of young men and women well equipped, under our direction, for the "battle of life."

Our best wishes for untarnished success, therefore true happiness, will follow you through life.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

THOSE of you who graduate in engineering give evidence of a definite purpose which has been carried out through your study of engineering subjects. Some of you made your decision to be an engineer while still in high school; others did not come to the conclusion until their freshman year, but the important fact is that you did choose engineering, and that you expect by it to develop your careers wherever your activities may lie.

The advance made by applied science calls for an ever-increasing demand for those who are trained to apply the great discoveries in the physical field. And so long as these discoveries in the abstract sciences are made, so long will there be an increasing need and opportunity for those who are trained to apply them, the engineer.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

YOU who are about to graduate and to try to find opportunities in teaching will find that teaching continuously becomes less a job and more a profession. You will find two things bulking large in the minds of those who employ teachers: first, your preparation in knowledge and skill; and second, what kind of a person you are. Some will emphasize the former; some, the latter. Neither will be neglected entirely. Your success in teaching will depend upon many things. Of first importance, among them, are knowledge of subjects taught, understanding of boys and girls, ability to work hard without loss of buoyancy, and capacity for growth.

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

THE fine associations which have existed for four years will soon change. Mass and more or less regimented activities will give way in most cases to individual, separate and special interests. You may not find immediately the connection you have hoped for and deserve, but there never was a time when agriculture and its allied interests had so great need for highly trained, clear, logical, luminously thinking men and women. There is always a place for the educated person with a purpose who has vision, initiative, pluck, punch and diplomacy coupled with a real spirit of cooperation. These qualities you should have acquired through the classroom, laboratory, societies, clubs, athletic contacts and general associations.

May your careers be full of success and crowned with rich satisfaction that comes with contributing of a worth-while service to your fellow man and your country. May your greatest and most lasting pleasures be found in your daily labors.

COLLEGE OF HOME ECONOMICS

THIS closes your four years in College. Wherever you are next year your education will continue. Your success and happiness will depend greatly upon your attitude toward the obstacles you are sure to encounter. If you keep yourself fit and face each day with cheerfulness, determination and honesty of purpose; and if you admit your mistakes and profit by them, you will develop in character and usefulness.

If you do not have an attitude of humility toward learning, cultivate it. Share your knowledge with others gladly but modestly. As you develop your personality and character through giving your best each day, a share of happiness and material success will be yours.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

ARRIVING one September three years ago, which of us would have thought that those young and inexperienced men and women would become the leaders of today. Those of us who are in the class of 1937 have watched with interest the progress we have made in the past, and are eagerly looking forward to the time when we will be "high and mighty" seniors.

We were organized under the able leadership of John Jimmyer and all of us looked forward to the day when we would be "rats" no longer. Although we started out pretty badly by losing the tug-of-war over Paint Branch we redeemed ourselves with the Freshman Frolic.

Then continuing under the same president assisted by Ireland, Waldman, and Brockman, we became Sophomores. Our dignity was profound, we were Freshmen no longer. We had our fun, but again we were destined to be the losers of the Freshman-Sophomore struggle. By this defeat, we won the distinction of being beaten by the Freshman Class and were further distinguished when we gave the Sophomore Prom, for not every orchestra shows up a couple of hours late for a dance.

Our school term more than half over, we find that the members of our class have distinguished themselves in all fields of extra-curricular activities. In sports we have such stars as Ellinger, Guckeyson, Headley, and Stonebraker; in dramatics, debate and publications we find Hunt, Kreiter, Schuh, Birmingham and Hebb.

Climaxing the activities of the Junior Class, we have our Junior Prom, the highlight of the social season, made possible by the efforts of Bud Hammerlund and the Prom Committee.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

THIS year's history of the class of '38 is a joyous realization of last year's expectations. The class is showing continually the spirit and unity which is responsible for the success it has achieved in its two years on the campus.

As Freshmen we bore up under the usual tortures inflicted upon "rats." One day a horde of excited Freshmen pulled a somewhat smaller and less excited group of supercilious Sophomores into Paint Branch. We were no longer forced to obey the lowly "rat" rules.

But then came September and a new Freshman class, to be the "rats" for our fiendish experimentation. Ignored or perhaps only too well remembered were all our sufferings as Freshmen. We carried on the tradition of hard-hearted Sophomores and painstakingly educated the "rats." There were two particularly memorable evenings. One, when the Frosh displayed their teamwork by touring their taskmasters over the campus in two large farm wagons; the other, when blindfolded, the "rats" were led first through the slimy waters of the Zoology pool, and then over a coal pile. We carefully organized for the tug-of-war, and, as we expected, won it.

Defying all laws of superstition, we held our Sophomore Prom on Friday, the thirteenth of March.

In class histories it is often the tendency for each class to claim most of the credit for the success of the athletic teams or other campus activities. In reality, however, it is the combined work of students from every class.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

THAT long-hoped-for, never-to-be-forgotten day September sixteenth! Collegiates at last! Only Freshmen, but with hopes of bigger and better things to come.

Class elections. Campaign speeches, politicians, preliminaries, and that fatal day of final ballots.

The results: President, Thomas Smith; Vice-President, Henry Wyatt; Secretary, Gwendolyn Glynn; Treasurer, Dick Shaffer; Men's Representative, William Howard; Women's Representative, Eleanor Sherman; Sergeant-at-Arms, John DeArmev; Historian, Margaret Maslin.

Sophomores! Sophomores who tried to make us suffer untold embarrassment and degradation, who enforce "rat rules," who dragged us through coal piles and paddled us severely. Then, finally, the tug-of-war over Paint Branch—and the icy waters that closed over our heads finished a long, hard struggle. But the day will come.

Rushing. Luncheons, teas, dinners, and dances. Fraternity and sorority houses. Silence period—and then pledge buttons. Greeks everywhere!

Our society debut—The Prom. An event to be proud of and a night to be remembered.

Athletics. The football season with its many stars. The basketball season with more than its share of high scorers, and boxing team that bids fair to be one of the best. Then spring with a great array of lacrosse players and track men to add to next year's varsity teams.

And so our introduction to college is over. A grand year for us—and next fall we'll be Sophomores with another share of studies, good times, extra-curricular activities, and athletics. We leave this, our first year, with regret and look forward to next with great expectations.

PUBLICATIONS

HEBB
LOHR

THE Terrapin is compiled and edited by the Junior Class to be presented to the Senior Class as a lasting record of their many experiences while undergraduates at Maryland. In order to make this a worthwhile memo of their four years of University life, the editors have attempted to cover every phase of campus activity, and to illustrate the many important functions that take place in order that these memories will not die with the presentation of diplomas.

The annual is financed entirely by funds received from the Student Government Association through the student activities fee and the fees paid by the various organizations having representation in the book. There are no advertisements in the book, which makes it distinct in the field of college journalism.

The three major positions, namely, the Editor-in-Chief, Women's Editor, and Business Manager, are chosen from the incoming Junior Class by the retiring officers with the approval of the Faculty Adviser on publications and the Executive Council. This system bases promotion upon merit rather than upon popularity, and has proved to be free from criticism either from the faculty or the students of the school.

This year The Terrapin has endeavored to present a book that will be both interesting and worthwhile, and to accomplish this end the entire make-up of the book has been rearranged. An example of this is to be found in the Senior Section which has been divided into groups according to colleges instead of into a university group as formerly. In addition, a more extensive sports section has been inaugurated which covers the activities of the men's and women's intramural competition as well as the various Varsity matches. Increased emphasis has been placed upon the photographic work of this year's annual as compared to former issues.

THE 1935-36 DIAMONDBACK

HUNT
WELLINGTON

THE policy of the Diamondback during the past year has been one of consideration for student interests. At times, the publication has taken sides with the Administration of the University and on other occasions it has taken an opposite stand.

The facilities of the Diamondback were devoted toward the appointment of Mr. H. C. Byrd as president of the institution. Sympathetic cooperation was given to leaders of the student committee which circulated petitions favoring Mr. Byrd.

In addition, such improvements as advocating a swimming pool for the school, elimination of final exams for seniors, paving of the road leading to the Men's Parking Lot, beautification of the campus, etc., were fostered.

The Diamondback has also worked to obtain a feeling of student-faculty cooperation. Suggestions have been advanced for the creation of a board, to be composed of members of the student body and teaching staff, which will serve to iron out difficulties.

Various structural improvements have been made in the publication itself. The appearance of the sports section of the paper has been modernized and cartoons have been installed as a regular weekly feature. In addition, editorials have been reduced in quantity, and an effort has been made to substitute quality.

A sympathetic hand has been extended to all campus groups, and it has been the purpose of the editors to give as wide a coverage as possible to all phases of campus life.

Special attention has been given to women's news and an effort has been made to assist coeds of the institution in the various projects which have interested them. Under proposed changes in the staff, the position of women's editor will be given increased importance. In the future the women's editor will be second in importance to the editor-in-chief.

In conclusion, the purpose of the 1935-36 Diamondback has been to combine progress with care in all editorial, reportorial, and structural policies.

THE 1935-36 OLD LINE

ERBE

CONCOMITANT with the growth of the University in the past few years has been the growth of The Old Line, Maryland's youngest publication. Started only six years ago as a quarterly, it has increased its number of issues from six last year to eight this year. With this enlargement in number of issues has come a corresponding development in national prestige.

This increase in quantity has gone hand in hand with an increase in the literary and artistic content of the magazine. For the first time in its history an Old Line editor has been appointed to the advisory board of College Humor, national anthology of college humor magazines. A remarkably efficient business staff has brought about an unprecedented increase in volume of advertising, both national and local.

The magazine this year has made more distinct and individual style that has slowly been developing during its growth. Its rotogravure features—pictures accompanied by editorial comment—have been widely imitated and borrowed. Its cartoons and features have been reprinted in all of its leading contemporaries.

The Old Line is unique among campus publications in that it is the only one to recognize and promote original creative writing. The yearbook and newspaper serve merely to record campus life. To The Old Line is reserved the task of satirizing this life. For the person who has literary or artistic ambitions the magazine is the sole medium of expression.

In the past primarily a humor magazine, The Old Line has this year laid particular emphasis on literary production. The success of the various short story contests sponsored by the magazine has attested to this increase in its literary quantity.

During the school year an experienced staff has put out eight novel and rib-tickling numbers, the success of which has been evidenced by the student body and contemporary publications.

THE 1935 "M" BOOK

Editor	Carlisle Humelsine

Managing Editor	F. Walter Goldstein
Sports Editor	Herbert Smith
Women's Editor	Claire Boekhoff

THE objective of the "M" Book this year was to furnish the Freshmen Class with a collection of diversified facts, which were to be found in a number of different places, in order to help them become better acquainted with the history, traditions, and general life of the University.

The editors endeavored to place emphasis on matters about which the incoming students would know little as well as upon the things with which they were most concerned. With this in mind, the main stress was placed on the section for fraternities and sororities.

Feeling that this was the most important issue from the viewpoint of the freshmen, an entirely different section, containing information relative to the various fraternities and sororities, was placed in the book.

Another improvement started by the present staff was the increased use of "cuts" and art work which went a long ways toward improving this year's publication over those of former years.

The make-up of the book was changed a great deal with the end in mind of making material easier to find and to accomplish this the editorial board resectioned the book so as to do away with a great deal of the ambiguity of previous years.

MILITARY

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

PATCH

ALTHOUGH my tour at the University of Maryland has been brief, I have discovered a very fine state of mind in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps. This has unquestionably been brought about by a cooperative faculty and student body. Training has been decentralized, and student leaders actually command and conduct the training of their units. This practice of decentralization is bound to develop leadership in our student officers. It is our purpose to maintain the high standards established by our able predecessors.

I wish to take this opportunity to express our regret over the departure of Captain Harmony at the end of the present school year. An officer and gentleman, in fact, he has established a standard here for all of us who follow him.

The War Department rating of "Excellent" which has been won for so many years by this school will be our Spring objective. The ability of our Army personnel, the cooperation of our student officers, and the effort which is being made by the man in the ranks augurs well for the future.

I wish to express appreciation for the helpful cooperation on the part of the President and Faculty.

I also wish to thank my Army staff for their loyalty and efficient service.

Rosshourg's Contribution to President's Birthday Ball

ROSSBOURG CLUB

THE Rossbourg Club, the sole purpose of which is the sponsoring of dances for Maryland students, continued its progress of bringing nationally known orchestras to the University campus.

Membership is restricted to Maryland students, although popularity and attendance at the dances is by no means confined to students. The social functions attract numerous alumni, and also members of the younger sets of Baltimore and Washington.

The climax of the current social season was reached when Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra, playing for the mid-year dance, broadcast over a nation hook-up in connection with the President's Birthday Ball.

THE fall production was "Journey's End," the world-famous war tragedy by R. C. Sherriff. The tragic parts of Captain Stanhope, Lieutenant Raleigh and Lieutenant Hibbert were played sincerely and with moving effect by Fred Haskin, Jr., Bill Johnson, and Jerome Sacks. The comedy was capably handled by Samuel Leishear, Theodore Erbe, and David Seidel. Two newcomers, Paul Wise and Tom Whar-ton, filled small parts.

The late winter production was Paul Osborn's "Oliver Oliver," a light and swiftly paced comedy, with Theodore Erbe, Florence Small, and Deborah Billig shining in expert comic portrayals in the pivotal roles; with Geraldine Schuh an attractive ingenue; and John Edwards, Samuel Leishear, and Clara Tarbett rounding out the cast.

As a curtain-raiser, the Club presented Alice Gerstenberg's biting satire "The Pot Boiler." Jerry Tax directed, and the broadly burlesque characters were cleverly portrayed by Jerry Tax, Mildred Hearn, Ann May Baines, Dick Hunt, Gordon Hammond, Ed Stimpson, and Joel Hutton.

No Footlight Club story is complete without a word of tribute to its guiding genius, Dr. Charles B. Hale, whose brilliant and sympathetic direction has been responsible for the club's successes for ten seasons.

A note of sadness entered the history of the year when the Footlight Club was deeply saddened by the tragic death of one of its most brilliant stars. The Club wishes this paragraph to be a small but sincere tribute to the memory of Betti Buschman.

WITH a larger number of applicants this year, Mr. Randall, director of the club, was able to exercise greater choice in selecting the personnel of the club than in former years, and thus a finer group of voices was possible.

The season was opened with a joint concert with the Men's Glee Club at the Petworth Baptist Church, Washington, D.C. This Chorus also appeared on the All University Night Program where they, as on many other occasions, joined with the Men's Glee Club to form a mixed chorus which has been very popular throughout the school year. In March the combined groups broadcast over station WMAL, Washington, D.C. The annual campus concert of the two singing organizations was held in May in the auditorium of the Agricultural Building.

THE Men's Glee Club, in its second year under the direction of Mr. Randall, has become more firmly established, increasing their influence and bettering their reputation. A large number of formal concerts and shorter programs were given which usually consisted of songs by the entire group, solos by Wayne Hamilton, baritone, and solos and accompaniments by Walter Zuk at the piano.

Concerts were presented in a number of churches and other places in and around this vicinity before various types of audiences, either jointly with the Women's Chorus or alone. A quartet from this group appeared before many clubs and other groups during the year. The Glee Club this year enjoyed a trip to Hancock, Maryland, where they presented a formal concert in the high school which was enthusiastically received. The club made an important contribution to the very successful All University Night program.

THIS year's sixty-piece student band has eclipsed all former bands at Maryland. Not only has the present organization doubled its membership but it has been dressed up in new black and gold capes and caps.

The band has displayed enthusiasm never before shown by any other band. This is probably due to the inspiration given to the men in the organization by the new faculty advisor, Major Howard Clark. Not a little of the credit for the band's work this year goes to Sergeant Otto Siebeneichen, conductor of the group.

Maryland's football and basketball games were livened up many times by the playing of the Old Line Band. Not only did the musicians play at football and basketball events, but they contributed to the baseball season.

Besides playing three radio concerts, one of them the nation-wide National Farm and Home Hour, the members gave two public concerts at the University.

The members of the band and the faculty advisors look forward to the coming year as the greatest in the history of band music at the University of Maryland.

THE Calvert Debate Club completed one of the most successful seasons in its history. Teams representing better and larger schools were scheduled, and the scope of club activity was extended so as to include a northern and a southern trip for the men's team, and a southern trip for the women's team.

The climax of the season culminated in the formal match between the University of Maryland and the University of Hawaii, in which Maryland emerged victorious over one of the best forensic teams ever to face the rostrum on this campus. Judges for the occasion were George L. Radcliffe, U.S. Senator from Maryland, Warren F. Sterling, Maryland Bank Commissioner, and Thomas Nixon Carver, professor emeritus of Harvard University. At a banquet preceding the debate, President H. C. Byrd was inducted into honorary membership in the club.

The highlight of the year was the presentation of the second Burlesque Debate. Amid laughs and the munching of doughnuts, students and faculty listened to orations extolling the virtue of doughnut holes and the fragrance of limburger cheese as rudiments of health.

Keys denoting successful participation in five engagements were presented to Richard Zimmerman and Paul Wise.

THE Episcopal Club of the University of Maryland is a group of students and faculty united for the purpose of creating fellowship among the Episcopalians on the campus. The club is affiliated with the National Student Council of the Episcopal Church and follows a five-point program: worship, religious education, church extension, and campus and community service.

The annual reception for new students, given in the Parish Hall of St. Andrew's Church, College Park, opened the activities for the year. Opportunity for worship and service for the members was found through cooperation in the activities of St. Andrew's Church by serving in the choir, teaching in the Sunday School, and affiliating with such organizations as the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

The club held regular meetings of the first and third Mondays of each month throughout the school year. During Lent regular meetings were discontinued, instead, the club attended the Wednesday evening service at St. Andrew's. Delegates were sent to the Tri-Diocesan Conference in Washington. The club's activities terminated with the election of officers, and a picnic.

The club cordially welcomes to its meetings all students and members of the faculty interested in its work.

ORGANIZED in 1930, the Maryland Christian Association strives to achieve close relationship and cooperation among the students and to aid in furthering programs which will benefit the students and faculty. The association is comprised of two units, the men's and women's cabinets. These cabinets work both separately and in unison to accomplish their objectives. Each year they work out their individual purposes and goals and at all times have the advice and help of the faculty and Advisory Board.

A few of the features of the program are the Freshman Week Program, Speakers, Philanthropic Work, the Maryland Mixer, and the Student-Faculty Tea.

This year's program began with Freshman Week followed by the Maryland Mixer, which was quite clever and attracted a large crowd. For the Christmas Relief Drive, the M.C.A., in cooperation with the S.G.A., held a campus-wide drive for food, money and clothes. The drive was climaxed with a Novel Depression Dance. Then for the first time on campus a Student-Faculty Tea was given by the Y.W.C.A. to create a closer feeling between the students and faculty.

THE purpose of the organization is to promote interest in swimming as a campus activity and provide a basis for future varsity organization, as well as to teach swimming and give instructions in life saving.

The Terrapin Swimming Club has enjoyed one of the most successful years in the history of the club, under the efficient and expert guidance of the president, George A. Johnson. The club started the year with a mere handful of members and before two weeks of the year had passed boasted a membership of over one hundred students.

Since the University has no pool the club has been swimming in the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, where they have secured a reduced rate. The swims have been very popular and the attendance at them vary from one-half to three-fourths of the membership. The club has brought swimming before the eyes of the school and at present is one of the largest and strongest bodies backing the "build a pool" movement.

One of the highlights of the year was the first annual dance on February 28, 1936. The club gained much from this dance as a result of the invaluable work of the committee headed by Lester Brooks.

The club finished off the year with a beach party which was held the latter part of May.

One of the features of the club has been to hold moonlight rides, which the members have received very enthusiastically.

The climax of the year was the Spring Horse Show, which is an annual event. The show this year attracted wide interest in Maryland, the District of Columbia, and Virginia.

A YEAR ago in May, in an effort to form closer union between Daydodgers and University activity, the Coed Daydodgers Club was formed under the guidance of Dean Adele Stamp.

In a very short time, the organization had procured two rooms on the first floor of the Old Library for the Daydodgers' use for eating and recreation. Later, the club expects to have some sort of cafeteria service for the use of those coeds who have inadequate lunching facilities at present.

THE purpose of this club is to give agricultural students a more practical insight into the care, breeding and feeding of livestock, and to give non-farm students experience in working with animals. Prominent livestock breeders of the state are invited to speak before their meeting. The club's greatest achievement is the sponsoring of the annual Livestock Exposition, a fitting and showing contest that is becoming an occasion of great interest to every breeder of livestock in Maryland.

THE Grange is a national organization for those interested in agriculture. The order strives to secure harmony, good will, and vital brotherhood among the members. The Student Grange was organized in 1914 by Reuben Brigham who is now the head of the Department of Visial Education in the U.S.D.A. The Order gives the students experience in handling a typical rural organization and brings them in contact with the agricultural leaders of the state.

LIVING as we do in an age when great political, social, and economic changes are sweeping over the world, one cannot hope to live intelligently without being informed as to the undenyng forces.

Modern means of communications have succeeded in drawing the nations of the world more closely together than ever before. The student, therefore, cannot limit himself to a knowledge of his own country and the forces operative there, if he desires to gain a true perspective of the world in which he lives. Changes taking place in one nation will of necessity affect the others. Problems today may be national in their origin but they are international in their significance and implications.

The International Relations Club of the University of Maryland was organized for the purpose of offering the student an opportunity of becoming better acquainted with the problems underlying international intercourse. Speakers of recognized standing are invited to address the club from time to time. The members of the club are thus offered the opportunity of discussing these problems with the speaker.

College and University students hoping to become leaders of thought in their respective communities are here given an opportunity in not merely to gain information, but are assisted in developing the ability to evaluate the problems confronting the various nations of the world.

ATHLETIC BOARD

MARYLAND'S Athletic Board is made up of two veteran members, Dr. L. B. Broughton, who is chairman; Prof. Charles S. Richardson, pioneer in sports leadership at the Old Line institution; in addition to Dr. C. O. Appleman, Dean of the Graduate School; Col. J. D. Patch, head of the Military Department, and Prof. Leroy W. Ingham.

Dr. Broughton is head of the Chemistry Department and Professor Richardson is director of Public Speaking.

Professor Richardson, former board chairman and a member of the body for nearly 40 years, was mainly responsible for bringing Curley Byrd back to his alma mater. Dr. Broughton, a classmate of Byrd's in graduating in 1908, has been on the campus ever since. He is now acting athletic director also, and, along with Professor Richardson and others, was given the task by President Byrd of carrying on where the new chief executive left off. They have done a pleasing job.

PLAYING a flashy, well coordinated game from start to the final whistle, Maryland's football team had one of its most gratifying seasons.

The Terps, always a tough and tricky foe, won seven games, tied a pair and lost two, one of which it apparently had well within their grasp. It was a couple of bad "breaks" with victory all but gained that cost a triumph in a big intersectional game with Indiana.

However, John E. (Jack) Faber, who served as head coach; Frank Dobson, who presided as field coach in his debut season with the Old Liners after 20 years in the saddle at Richmond U., and Leroy Mackert, line coach, had no wails over the season. Neither did the faculty, students and followers of the team in general, all of whom had high praise for the Terps.

Probably the most prized triumphs of the campaign were scored over Georgetown, a game in which Maryland was the underdog to a fine Blue and Gray eleven, and over Western Maryland, another neighboring rival.

The game with the Green Terrors really was a post-season affair, arranged to help raise funds for the field house at Westminster, but as the contest eventually shaped up the State title and the Mayor's trophy were at stake at one and the same time. Now the Terps have both in their possession after registering a 22 to 7 win that was more decisive than anyone had expected. However, it was more of a battle than the figures would tend to indicate.

It was fine team play, engendered by a remarkably fine spirit within the squad, that brought such great success to the Old Line gridders, but there were some notable individual feats that stood out, especially some by Bill Guckeyson, rated among the greatest backs of the country in a year that filled with scintillating talent.

Bill's most outstanding achievements were in the Georgetown and Florida games. He stepped 50 yards from scrimmage for one touchdown against the Blue and Gray and ran the second half kick-off back for 90 yards for another counter in a grueling game Maryland won by only 12 to 6.

Ennis breaks up pass in homecoming game with Washington and Lee

Guckeyson running behind great interference in Indiana contest

However, it was team play in the nature of great blocking that enabled Guckeyson to turn in two such remarkable feats in one tilt, and the way the path was cleared for him in the longer touchdown run was amazingly near-perfect.

Guckeyson's kicking contribution in the Florida game was one of the great masterpieces of the football campaign. He made three boots which totalled fully 210 yards from the line of scrimmage, and set the stage for each of the three Terp touchdowns that brought victory by 20 to 6 score.

His kicking and running stood out in other games, too, and his booting in the Syracuse tilt, played in rain and mud in Baltimore stadium, was classical. His punts were so well placed that not a one was caught.

But while Guckeyson led the parade, Ed Minion, guard; Carl Stalfort and Charlie Callahan, tackles; Vic Willis, Lou Ennis and Bernie Buscher, ends, and Charlie Ellinger, Coleman Headley and John Gormley, backs, were right behind beating the tom-toms of high class football.

Guckeyson will be back, along with Vic Willis, and that adds sunshine, but darkness comes from the fact that Minion, Stalfort, Callahan, Ennis and

Buscher will be missing when the roll is called next September 1, for the start of another campaign, leaving shoes that any coach would find difficult to fill. As men and athletes they will leave a great void.

Guckeyson, who was all-Southern selection, and Willis and Minion got All-America mention, while they and Stalfort, Callahan, Ennis and Buscher came in for honors on All-State and sectional teams.

Guckeyson was picked by such teams as Syracuse, Florida and Indiana as the best back they played against all year and it must be remembered that the Hoosiers faced such stars as Jay Berwanger of Chicago, All-America choice, and the aces of the great Minnesota and Iowa teams.

Maryland figured in some highly attractive games during the season and in only the North Carolina tilt, in which it got off on the wrong foot, did it look bad. Then all the ill luck that goes with the loser was in evidence.

There was an unusual angle to the clash with Virginia Tech in which the Terps gained more than 300 yards to a paltry few for the Gobblers to gain a one touchdown victory.

However, the toughest breaks of them all came in the game with Indiana, which was lost in the last minute of play when a long forward pass, apparently broken up, was deflected into the hands of a Hoosier back of the goal line. Just before that penalty was called on the Terps, when they had intercepted a pass that seemingly assured victory, that gave the ball back to Indiana and set the stage for the fatal aerial.

Cavalier back abruptly halted in Virginia game

Stonebraker on way to touchdown in game with Florida

There was great interest in the Syracuse game in the Baltimore Stadium on Thanksgiving Day and the contest, that ended scoreless, doubtless would have drawn a fine crowd had it not turned out to be a rainy and chilling day. It was a fine battle in the mud, with Guckeyson's kicking being marvelous under the circumstances and the Terps stopping the great Vannie Albanese, Orange fullback, with great effectiveness.

These two potential All-Americans, Guckeyson and Albanese, held the limelight and the Old Liner was the better man of the two—that day at least.

One player who hardly got the recognition he deserved from the fans and writers is John Gormley, Maryland fullback, whose blocking on attack and defensive play was a joy to the coaches.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

THERE was plenty of the exhilarating in the basketball season that was provided by a small but high class squad, capably coached by H. Burton Shipley, serving his thirteenth season. Jack Faber, who acted as Ship's aide-de-camp, also shared in the laurels.

Capturing 13 of 18 contests during the regular season and breaking even in two hot tilts in the Southern Conference championship tourney, played at Raleigh, N.C., the Terrapins compiled an enviable record and in addition paraded some talent that gained wide recognition.

Maryland, like every other team, had its off nights, but played as nearly up to a consistent standard as most basketball teams, and on occasions was unbeatable. The Terps, the experts agreed, played the finest game of the entire Southern Conference tourney when they romped away from Duke in the opening round to the tune of 47 to 35. Their play was near-perfection and gained the plaudits of the fans.

The Terps, though, after their extremely "hot" night against Duke, fell off a little the next evening and lost out to Washington and Lee in the semi-final, 32 to 38, in a game in which just a bit more accuracy in their shooting would have won. In fact, it was the general opinion that Maryland had the best team in the tourney.

Bernie Buscher, who had his greatest year in the sport, gained the highest recognition, being placed on the All-Southern Conference first quint and on all the picked teams in his home section. Vic Willis was on the second All-Conference five at center as well as on many other all-star outfits. In fact, Paul Menton, sports editor of the Evening Sun of Baltimore, and a well-known basketball official and authority, and others thought Willis should have been first Conference choice.

Terps and Duke in merry battle for ball

Willis puts in two-pointer against Richmond U.

Willis and Buscher staged a great battle all through the season for scoring honors with the former finishing with 205 points for 19 games and the latter with 192 for 20 engagements. Both of these great players have had their three years of basketball and will be sorely missed when another campaign rolls around. Willis, though, does not graduate until next February and has another season of football.

Charlie Keller and Al Waters, the only other veterans on the team; Ben Allen, a junior in the Pharmacy School in Baltimore but out for the first time; Fred Thomas, Waverly Wheeler, John McCarthy and Bill Bryant, sophomores, completed the squad and all saw plenty of action.

Notable triumphs for the season were scored over Georgetown, which was a rather heavy favorite; Navy in a game at Annapolis, Richmond University to atone for a bad licking the year before, Virginia, Duke in the regular season as well as in the tourney, and all State foes that were met, Washington College twice, St. John's, Johns Hopkins and Baltimore University. In fact, the Terps firmly established themselves as the undoubted rulers of the State realm.

Outside of Buscher and Willis, Waters was the only player to score more than 100 points, his total being 112 for 18 games. Waverly Wheeler, chief pinch-hitter, totalled 88 and gave a lot of thrills with his flashy floor play. Keller and Thomas also were streaks on the court.

Maryland will make a rule to play only 18 games starting next season and the schedule for 1936-37 already has been filled with attractive teams, the majority of which were on the card during the last campaign.

Al Heagy, who tutored the freshman basketekers, is sending up several good prospects to the Varsity and a larger squad than Shipley carried this year is likely to wear suits during the next campaign.

VARSITY BOXING

THE 1936 boxing team, with Captain John W. (Jack) Harmony coaching for his fourth and farewell season, did not do as well as in some previous campaigns when the won and lost column is taken strictly into consideration, but the squad and the tutor pleased every one in the know.

Taking two out of seven meets does not appear as a great record on the surface, but "officiating breaks," that will not be discussed here, may truthfully be charged with costing a Maryland triumph in at least three of the meets, two of which were dropped by counts of $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$ and another that went the wrong way, 5 to 3.

SALLY HARMONY (MASCOT) and
CAPT. SPIKE WEBB

One champion was crowned in the Southern Conference tournament, held as usual at the University of Virginia, and another reached the final only to lose out on a close decision.

Ivan Nedomatsky brought home the title, winning in the 145-pound class, registering kayoes in both the semi-final and final rounds to leave no doubt as to his superiority. Nedomatsky the previous year had won in the 135-pound division and repeating in a higher weight was unusual.

John Gormley, battling in the light-heavy-weight section, was the Marylander to reach the ultimate round, and he came near garnering the laurels by a kayo, although finally being declared loser on points.

Two things hurt the team greatly all through the season. Nedomatsky's advance in weight

Webb and Tobias of Miami battle it out at close range threw the whole squad out of kelter at the start, forcing Captain Harmony to juggle his team about more than he liked to in order to make the best of the situation. Then, too, Maryland never had a dependable heavyweight who really was in that class as to poundage. Gormley, although easily able to make 175 and never going more than two or three pounds above 180, fought in that class a couple times and showed to advantage. However, he naturally was forced to concede too much weight not to reduce his winning chances.
Gormley defeating Dulaney of V.M.I.

Maryland is extremely fortunate that it will turn a fine nucleus over to the new coach, whoever he may be. Walter Webb, who acted as captain in most of the fights during the 1936 season, will be the only scrapper to be graduated and some good talent will come up from the freshman squad, which was stronger in quality than in quantity. Lyman McAboy, who fought under Harmony for three years, handled the yearlings in gratifying fashion.

With few exceptions, Maryland's boxers come from within the State and the District of Columbia and only rarely does one make his appearance who has had any experience worthwhile and nearly all of them have had absolutely none.

Captain Harmony will go from Maryland to the Army Staff School at Leavenworth and this means that his chances of going high up in the service are bright. Maryland will miss him greatly and if it can come close to filling his shoes it will be well satisfied.

Tom Birmingham, for two years the regular in the 125-pound class, has been elected president of the Student Government Association, but this is not expected to take him away from the boxing squad.

Another boxer, Mike Lombardo, who fights in either the 155 or 165-pound class, also was honored in the elections, being named president of the Men's League of the S.G.A.

VARSITY LACROSSE

MARYLAND'S 1936 lacrosse team, from the standpoint of balance and all-around excellence, generally was conceded to be one of the very best stick combinations ever produced in the colleges and one of the outstanding squads ever to show its wares in the famous old Indian pastime.

It was a team that had power and polish from stem to stern, with every man who was permitted by the rules to go down the field on attack being capable of dexterously firing the ball into the netting. This is testified to by the division of the scoring among so many of the Old Liners. All of the lacrosse writers referred to Maryland's offense as a "six-man attack."

From Jack Kelly, the alert and agile goalie, down to Charlie Ellinger, the in-home and axis of the team, there was not a single weak spot in the outfit. Ellinger, a clever general and feeder, also could toss the rubber pellet into the goal along with such adept throwers as Herb Brill, John Christhilf, Parker Lindsay, Pierce Mac-cubbin and others.

It was mainly a combination—as far as the first team was concerned—of seniors and juniors, Lindsay, an unusually capable center, being the only sophomore to gain a regular berth.

Maccubbin almost slays goalkeeper in B.A.C. game

This means, of course, that Head Coach Jack Faber and Al Heagy, defense coach, will have quite a few shoes to fill when another Spring rolls around. Among those who will be missing will be Lou Ennis, Jim Hart and Ike Rabbitt, three excellent defense men, and Herb Brill, John Christhilf and Pierce Maccubbin, attackers, all regulars.

Ed Minion, defense, and Walter Webb and George Schaffer, attack, of the 1936 reserves also have played their final lacrosse for the Terps. Every man to go will be missed and it will take a lot of searching to fill their places, especially men like Ennis, Christhilf, Brill, Hart and Rabbitt.

However, Joe Deckman, who has worked like a Trojan with a good band of freshmen, will send more than the average amount of talent up to the Varsity.

Doubtless the three strongest teams that Maryland played all season were Baltimore Athletic Club, Mount Washington Club and the Naval Academy. Both of the club teams are made up mainly of former college lacrosse stars, many of them All-Americans in their student days and offer a tremendous problem for any collegiate outfit.

The Terps carried off the honors in the tilts with B.A.C. and the Navy, but lost out by a single goal margin to the Mount Washington aggregation in a game in which Maryland, after a jittery start, appeared to be the superior combination. In fact, after trailing 4 to 7 at intermission, the Terps came back to outplay their more experienced rivals in the second half four goals to two, only to lose out by 8 to 9. It was a great game of lacrosse and to hold the clubmen to such a close count was a noteworthy feat.

Another greatly prized victory was the 9 to 0 triumph scored over St. John's, Maryland's old rival which has proved a thorn in the side of the Terps on the lacrosse field in recent years. It is exceptional in modern lacrosse for a team to be blanked, especially an outfit of the caliber of the Johnnies, who later took the measure of a strong West Point ten.

However, the big thrill of the campaign came in the game with the Navy attackmen at Annapolis on May 9 when the outfit, now coached by Dinty Moore, former St. John's mentor, was conquered by a 7 to 2 count. It was a torrid battle, fought out under a glaring sun and the Old Liners had to show real class to gain the upper-hand by such a margin.

The game was the high spot of the season from the standpoint of attendance, as fully 6,000 persons withstood the heat to witness the annual struggle, and few of them left until the final whistle blew. The play throughout was just about as hot as the day and every point that came Maryland's way was fully earned.

Few, if any contests, in any sport are as spiritedly played as those between the Middies and Terps on the lacrosse field and the 1936 tilt, if anything, carried more dash than usual, although the play was sportsmanlike at all times.

One ball that was shot past Navy's goal, but plenty went in

It might, incidentally, be mentioned that Maryland's schedule was the toughest tackled by any outfit in the country. In fact, it was the only list that contained all the big teams of the State, the hot-bed of the stick-wielding sport.

It might also be pointed out that two of the big guns of the Mount Washington Club are former Old Line stars, Fred Stieber, high scoring in home, and Norwood Sothoron, who is equally as good at center or in a defense position.

Stonebraker safe at third in Michigan game

Keller scores on Cornell

THERE was plenty of glory in the baseball season with the Southern Conference title flag tacked to the mast and a great majority of the games on the right side of the ledger. This was accomplished despite unfavorable weather early in the season that retarded Vic Willis and other pitchers.

However, the crafty George Wood, the sophomore southpaw mite, led the slabbers to a gratifying season, in which some of the high spots were triumphs over Ohio State, Cornell, Michigan, Duke and Navy, to mention a few.

An even break also was gained with Georgetown, one of the best nines playing in the South Atlantic sector and it came as one of the feature triumphs of Field Day.

Charlie Keller, who continued to show big league caliber in the outfield; Jack Stonebraker, who first played second and then was shifted to short to fill a gap there; Waverly Wheeler, third sacker; Fred (Young Knocky) Thomas, catcher, and Bill Bryant, outfielder, were the big guns of the team. Mike Surgent, infielder, also developed as the season progressed and aided with his hitting.

Maryland's new electric scoreboard

Bill Guckeyson coming to the team late when he was kept from track by a nerve ailment in his shoulder, also shone as the season waned, showing that he has the talent to make good on the diamond as well as on the gridiron and as an all-around field man.

Willis and Ford Loker, a pitcher who will enter the Medical School next Fall, will be Coach Burton Shipley's only losses.

VARSITY TRACK

DESPITE enough bad breaks to have taken the starch out of the squad and Coach Swede Eppley, the Maryland track and field combination carried on in brilliant fashion in a long, hard schedule and but for the unexpected loss of star talent might possibly have gone through the outdoor campaign with a clean slate.

Coleman Headley, ace middle distance runner, and Frank Cronin, sophomore runner and pole-vaulter, turned in the outstanding achievements. Headley smashed the half mile and mile marks, the former which he held, and the latter which had stood on the books since 1926.

Headley's finest feat was in the mile in the Southern Conference outdoor championship meet at Durham, N.C., on May 16, when he ran the distance in 4:20.9 to conquer one of the best fields ever to race in Dixie. It smashed to smithereens the old mark of 4:31.2 made by Carlton Neunam. Earlier in the season Headley did 4:23.3 and 4:22.4.

Headley also smashed his 880-yard mark of 1:58.8 against Virginia, his new time being 1:58.2.

Cronin turned in his record pole-vault in the first meet of his varsity career against Virginia Tech at Blacksburg on April 9, going over the bar at 12 feet 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches. He also won the Conference 440 title in 49.6.

Other notable achievements during the year were Warren Evans' 52.4 for the Headley winning mile in 4:22.4 and Slye capturing high hurdles against Richmond U.

440 and the feat of the relay team of Bob Archer, Bill Thies, Cronin and Evans running the mile in Southern Conference indoor meet at Chapel Hill in 3:31.8. Both times, made on an unbanked track, were records.

Earlier in the year the same relay team, with the exception that Thies was out and Headley ran anchor, defeated Amherst, Yale and Princeton in a mile race in the Millrose games in New York in 3:27.2.

Bob Slye, hurdler and broad jumper, followed closely on the heels of Headley and Cronin in stardom, while Charlie Orcutt and Bob Beall in the distance runs, Wilbur Duvall in the jumps, Selby Frank and Alton Sanford in the dashes, Charlie Zulick and Bill Edwards in the shot-put, and Jack Herbsleb, Paul Pfeiffer and Bill Graham in the javelin and discus contributed heavily.

Slye, Duvall, Frank, Sanford, Herbsleb and Graham are among those in the graduating class and will be greatly missed. It may be a long time before Maryland can fill the shoes of Slye, big point getter for a little fellow.

Maryland's greatest blow came in the loss of Bill Guckeyson, javelin, discus and shot tosser, who averaged 14 points a meet in 1935, through a nerve ailment in his shoulder. Guckeyson had hopes of making the Olympic team as a javelin tosser, and had a great chance.

Another jolt was the failure of Bill Beers, hurdler and broad jumper, to return to school. He is the holder of the University broad jump mark of 23 feet 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches.

An appendicitis operation also robbed the team of Bill Thies, fine quarter miler and broad jumper, and there were other setbacks that would have caused most any other coach, except Swede Eppley, to moan. One was the injury that kept Slye out of the Virginia meet and doubtless cost the Terps a victory.

But there was enough on the bright side spread across the season to look back upon with satisfaction.

Bird's-eye view of men's attractive tennis layout

VARSITY TENNIS

THE Old Line tennis team had a much more successful season than was anticipated at the outset of the campaign. Coach Les Bopts had lost the mainstays of the 1935 squad through graduation and withdrawals and hardly anyone expected the netmen to win eight of their ten matches.

Keaciel Krulevitz, in the singles, and with Bob Land in the doubles, was a leading factor in the success gained by the Terps. This pair showed their best tennis in a pinch.

While the team lacked an outstanding racketeer, it was well balanced all down the line in both singles and doubles and this kept the opposition from shifting their line-ups to take advantage of weak spots that usually exist.

One of the prized victories was the 8 to 1 defeat handed Georgetown, a combination the Terps had expected to find one of the toughest on the schedule.

Bill Meloy, Edmund Beacham and Jim Rintoul will be lost by graduation from the 1936 outfit.

VARSIITY RIFLE

THE Terp riflemen really hit the mark during the 1935-36 season. The team carried off the Third Corps Area honors with a score of 3,737; was sixth in the National Intercollegiate championships title meet with a five-man score of 1,355, while Arnon Mehring's 281 was the third best individual count in the collegiate shooting.

Besides Mehring, Hugh Saum, Aaron Welch, Noel Castle and Raymond Davis shot in the collegiate tourney.

Maryland marksmen also were seventh nationally and third in the Third Corps Area in the Hearst cup match.

Maj. Frank Ward's fine coaching was responsible for the great advance in rifle work.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Some of men's many indoor intramural sports

Sample of outdoor activities in men's intramurals. In all, more than 20 pastimes are fostered by Charles L. Mackert, Director of Physical Education

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

DURING 1935-36 intramural athletics for men at the University entered a period of refinement in organization and administration. With an internal program of sports including twenty activities, in fifteen of which external competition is promoted, it may be said that the program has passed through its development stage.

The student group, which has so successfully managed the activities for the past five years, organized an Intramural Athletic Association during 1935-36 with a President, Warren Evans, a Vice-President, Jack Herbsleb, and a Secretary-Treasurer, James Zimmerman.

The members adopted a "spot pin," a miniature of the terrapin medals given as awards, as a badge of recognition. One of the stated purposes of the organization is to encourage the participation of more students in the management, supervision and conduct of intramurals.

One of the features of the year was the first annual joint banquet given by the

Spring sports

Men's and Women's Athletic Association of the University, at which time the awards earned throughout the year were presented to individuals and groups. After the presentation of awards and speeches, the group remained to dance and otherwise enjoy a social evening. The event will be a yearly affair.

The promotion of extramural contests by the Intramural Department has been received with enthusiasm. In this manner it has been possible to organize and maintain teams in individual sports, which are so valuable to the student in continuing his athletic participation after leaving school.

Teams in swimming, wrestling, fencing, bowling, golf and horseshoe pitching, as well as other non-varsity sports, have been supported in extramural competition.

It is the plan of the Intramural Association to promote a sports program in interschool athletics as extensive as student interest dictates.

The University of Maryland may confidently look forward to being second to no school in the development of its student body physically.

In spring the girls' thoughts turn to athletics

WOMEN'S INTRAMURALS

HISTORY indeed was made this year as far as women's athletics are concerned when the first intramural basketball tournament was held. Prior to this year the intramural program had consisted of games between the four class teams, freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior, in hockey, basketball, and baseball. This winter the W.A.A. planned to increase the scope of the intramural games. Basketball was chosen as the pioneer sport in which to try out this experiment. Teams were chosen from each dormitory, from each sorority, and from among the day students. Games were played within the various groups and then the winning teams from each group played each other. Since a number of games had to be played to determine the winning team, a large number of students participated. There was sufficient friendly rivalry to make the games interesting for spectators as well as participants and the tournament was voted a great success. Next year we hope to have a similar intramural program in hockey and baseball, and as the enrollment of women students increases at the University in like manner we hope to see a broader and more comprehensive program of sports among women.

Coeds keep pace with men in recreational activities

MARYLAND COEDS

THE year 1935-36 saw the completion of the second dormitory for women. This building with its panelled living room of knotted pine, colorful draperies, and sunny, comfortable rooms is just as attractive as Margaret Brent Hall. The Stickley maple furniture and Simmons beds add much to the comfort of the girls and to the appearance of the rooms. This second dormitory is the central one of a proposed group of five. We hope that not many more years will pass before a third building will be added, since we now have over six hundred women students. At the present time we cannot house all of our women students in the dormitories and sorority houses; the need for additional housing facilities is apparent.

The Women's League, under the capable and intelligent leadership of Routh Hickey, has had a very successful year. The problems of the women students have been handled very effectively by this body and the members deserve to be congratulated for their splendid work for this year. In November, the Women's Intercollegiate Association of Student Governments will meet on our campus. Maryland will be the hostess group. Delegates from numerous colleges and universities will attend, and it is hoped that the convention will be so worth while that those attending will feel well repaid for coming.

The Coed Daydodgers Club celebrated its first birthday in March. This club fills a real need on the campus for women day students. Under the wise guidance of Florence Hill the Coed Daydodgers Club has worked in cooperation with the Women's League for two things: first, club and study rooms for day students; and second, a place where hot soup, sandwiches, and cocoa can be bought at a minimum price by the day students.

The Y.W.C.A., with Flora Waldman at its helm, has met with much success in the carrying out of its program. This organization has a very real place on the campus and is demonstrating its ability to meet definite needs among women students. This year for the first time, a student-faculty tea was given by the Y.W.C.A. This tea was held in the new dormitory and its purpose was to bring about a closer relationship between students and faculty members. A large number by their attendance showed that they were interested in furthering this worthy cause. The officers and cabinet of the Y.W.C.A. deserve to be congratulated on their attainments for this year.

Mention must be made of Mortar Board and Alpha Lambda Delta, the two national honor societies for women, and the high scholastic standards which they uphold and the furtherance of these standards among the women students by these organizations.

DEAN ADELE STAMP

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

MRS. ELIZABETH PHILLIPS JAMES

DURING the past year the Women's Athletic Association has sponsored the most successful intramural program in its history. Basketball, hockey, soccer, baseball, tenni-quits, volley ball, ping-pong were the sports played.

On Homecoming Day we sponsored a hockey meet. Defeating American University, Marjorie Webster, Wilson's Teachers College, but lost to Western Maryland.

For the first time in three years has any jeweled "M" been earned. Kathryn Terhune, Evelyn Turner, Virginia Commer and June Barnsley were presented with their "M" at the annual banquet by Dean Adele Stamp, the advisor.

The officers for the past year were: June Barnsley, President, Florence Hill, Vice-President, and Dorothy Hobbs, Secretary.

HOCKEY

THE hockey season started off this year at a good pace. An examination was given for managers. Kathryn Terhune was manager; Virginia Conner assistant. Practice was held every afternoon at 4:10 on the Hockey field. For the first time in a good many years there were two Freshmen teams and a complete Senior team, besides the regular Sophomore and Junior teams. In the interclass games the Sophomore team was victorious over Team B of the Freshmen.

The annual Hockey Play Day was held on the morning of Homecoming with teams from Marjorie Webster, American University, and Western Maryland College participating. The Maryland team came out at the head of the list. Later in the Fall a Washington Hockey Play Day was held. This was sponsored by the Washington Field Hockey Association. Teams from the colleges in and nearby Washington were invited. These included American University, Marjorie Webster, Western Maryland College, George Washington University, Wilson Teachers College, and Trinity College. Maryland was very proud to come out tying for first place in this Play Day.

This year may be looked upon as the most successful hockey year that the University of Maryland has ever had.

 LYDDANE, ZERMAN, BOOTH, JUNE BARNSELY, CHAPIN, CONNER

BASKETBALL AND ARCHERY

BASKETBALL is perhaps the most popular sport of the year. This season we had three different tournaments—intratorority, the intramural and the class teams. The intramural winners were the Terrapin Flashes captained by Sally Haines and receive gold awards. The runners-up, captained by Carolyn Webster, were awarded silver pins.

The class games were the most spirited and the most interesting. The Sophomore Class won the championship with the seniors a close second.

The managers were Claire Zerman and June Barnsley.

Archery, an individual sport, during the past year has become one of the most popular activities for coeds on the Maryland campus.

At the third annual All-University Night an impressive display was presented by the women wand-splitters.

WOMEN'S RIFLE TEAM

THE coed rifle team this year had the good fortune of winning 22 out of 27 matches, tying 1, and losing only 4. The girls did some noteworthy shooting and by telegraphic matches worked their way up, to rank with the best women's teams of the country. Some of the colleges with which the team had matches are George Washington University, University of Pennsylvania, Carnegie Institute, Cornell, University of South Dakota, North Western, University of California and University of Washington.

The girls' averages ranged from 99.2 to 95.1. Mary Frances Garner of Washington, D.C., received the Knox-Hendricks Trophy for the year 1935-36 for the highest average of 99.2. Two of the coeds, Georgia Nordeen and Flora Waldman, placed in the National Women's Individual Collegiate Championship with 97% averages.

Corporal George J. Uhrinak, who came to Maryland just this year, coached the team and its successful season was made possible through his efforts. That he was able to accomplish as much as he did, being new at the University, is highly commendable.

Flora Waldman of Washington, D.C., was captain of the team and Leora Sanford of Chevy Chase, Md., was the manager.

~~PETTY~~ 2609 COYLE AVENUE CHICAGO

March 25, 1936.

Mr. John S. Hebb,
1936 Terrapin,
University of Maryland,
College Park, Maryland.

Dear Mr. Hebb:

There must be a lot of beautiful girls in the heart of Maryland because picking the pulchritude plus was no easy task.

However, in one man's opinion, the selection, is as follows in numerical order:

First -	your number	22,
Second-	" "	25,
Third -	" "	20,
Fourth -	" "	26,
Fifth -	" "	24,
Sixth -	" "	27,
Seventh	" "	23,
Eighth -	" "	21,
Ninth -	" "	28,

With a sincere hope that this is not at too great odds with local opinion, I beg to remain

Yours sincerely,

Geo. B. Petty

UNIVERSITY LIFE

JUNE WEEK

FROM undergraduate to a degree in an hour and a half. No more cramming, no more eajoling, no more cutting class. What, then? You'll find out . . . it's a cruel world. Well, it's your own fault. You didn't have to pass all your hours, did you? Rare though they may be, there is such a thing as a five-year man. It's too late now . . . you have your diploma . . . treasure it always . . . come around and see us.

ARMY CAMP

SIX weeks of nothing but military science and tactics. The boys always bring back glowing reports. You don't really do those things, do you, fellers? Six-thirty breakfasts are enjoyable functions, and it must be fun to drill from seven to twelve. Theory courses until three . . . athletics pursued until dinner . . . what to do with spare time . . . pretty hard grind . . . school starts September seventeenth . . . then sleep through nine-twenties . . . some fun.

OPENING OF SCHOOL

ONE look at the poor bewildered freshman and we can only ask "Nineteen thirty-nine, whyfore art thou?" All over the campus we hear, "What say, Butch, howza summer?" or perhaps from the fraternity houses come words like this: "For heaven's sake, I dropped that trunk on my finger." The sororities are always good for this one: "I met him on the boat . . . the most handsome thing!" A new year . . . turn over a new leaf . . . yeah!

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION

April 21, 1936
Gym-Armory

THE President in the receiving line with the members of the Board of Regents. A part of President Byrd's many friends attended to extend him congratulations on his appointment. None was more sincere than the student representatives who were present. A gala affair . . . lavish decorations . . . tasty refreshments . . . R.O.T.C. officers directing traffic.

HOMECOMING

November 16, 1935
Byrd Stadium

SEVEN hundred alumni return for festivities. Amidst general handshaking and back-slapping, the old grads came back for their annual get-to-gether at the scene of their college days. They watched the game frosh get doused by the cocky sophs . . . scoreless tie in football . . . a colorful show by the shriners . . . fine dance in Ritchie gym . . . waiting for next year . . . meanwhile practice in hand-gripping and lung development.

ALL-UNIVERSITY NIGHT

SWELL picture of extra-curricular activities with 350 undergraduates taking part. A crowd of five thousand saw the big show. The extravaganza which took place between two Varsity matches gave our visitors lots of impressions to take home. Basketball . . . Pershing Rifles in silent manual . . . Annie Oakley, Jr. . . Tumbling . . . Hockey . . . Archery . . . Symphony . . . Glee Club . . . Boxing . . . and goodnight.

MAY DAY

IT REALLY was a beautiful spring day, with the breeze gently rustling the leaves, and nimble barefoot girls dancing gracefully to a minuet. One can't always be sure of the weather but we of Maryland can promise the rest. It was good this year . . . the stately procession . . . the queen takes her throne of authority . . . the singing and dancing in her honor . . . the crowning of the queen . . . the winding of the Maypole. We look back and sigh . . . the ancient custom of May Day has been observed once more.

FIELD DAY

EIGHT hours of super sports. Five Varsity teams parading in all their glory. The high school teams enjoyed this occasion as much as the spectators. It was a real pleasure to see the cars lined up on the boulevard throughout the length of College Park. Headley sets new school record for the mile run . . . Dr. Broughton presents lots of medals . . . frat men sell programs . . . hot dogs, pop and peanuts consumed in huge quantities.

AMBITIOUS members of Riding Club at White House asking President to come to annual horse show . . . Incidents at three football games, where flowers are received by President Byrd, a cup comes from Mayor Jackson, and some goal posts are torn down . . . Gay 90's football at Florida . . . Also some of the Old Grads at the Junior Prom . . . Pick 'em out for yourself.

AHIGHLY important event, that first shovel of dirt comes out for the $350,000 Bureau of Mines building being built on the campus . . . And some less serious matters . . . Dance chaperones . . . A little something for the coeds to wear . . . And that Grange Play that was well received at all of its performances at many places in the State.

Publications Banquet, National Press Club, May 22, 1936
